Medical anthropology is the fastest-growing specialist area within anthropology, both in North America and in Europe. Beginning as an applied field serving public health specialists, medical anthropology now provides a significant forum for many of the most urgent debates in anthropology and the humanities. It includes the study of medical institutions and health care in a variety of rich and poor societies, the investigation of the cultural construction of illness, and the analysis of ideas about the body, birth, maturity, ageing and death.

This series includes theoretically innovative monographs, state-of-the-art collections of essays on current issues and short books introducing main themes in the subdiscipline.

1. Lynn M. Morgan, Community Participation in Health: The Politics of Primary Care in Costa Rica
2. Thomas J. Csordas (ed.), Embodiment and Experience: The Existential Ground of Culture and Health
3. Paul Brodwin, Medicine and Morality in Haiti: The Contest for Healing Power
4. Susan Reynolds Whyte, Questioning Misfortune: The Pragmatics of Uncertainty in Eastern Uganda
5. Margaret Lock and Patricia Kaufert, Pragmatic Women and Body Politics
6. Vincanne Adams, Doctors for Democracy
7. Elisabeth Hsu, The Transmission of Chinese Medicine
8. Margaret Lock, Allan Young and Alberto Cambrosio (eds.), Living and Working with the New Medical Technologies: Intersections of Inquiry
9. Daniel Moerman, Meaning, Medicine and the 'Placebo Effect'
